experience

Partner in the Employment Department of the Madrid office.

Since joining the Madrid Bar Association (Ilustre Colegio de Abogados de Madrid) as a practising lawyer in 2004, he has focused on employment law and Social Security matters.

Santiago advises on issues relating to the execution and termination of employment contracts, senior executive contracts, collective bargaining agreements, retribution schemes and other company policies. He has provided support in numerous collective dismissal and objective dismissal proceedings.

His professional expertise centers around employment conflicts and litigation, representing clients, mainly companies but also managers, before judicial bodies. Santiago also has extensive experience preparing employment-related legal reports and due diligence procedures.
